FORWARD | corcoran MCENEARNEY

Selling Your Home

A clear, personal guide to what happens, when, and who will be with you

Whether you are selling a longtime residence or an investment property, our goal is the same: a smooth process, honest advice, and the strongest possible return on your property, with no surprises along the way.

Your Advisor: Marc Cashin

Marc Cashin is a licensed real estate broker and Realtor® in Washington, DC, Maryland, and Virginia. Prior to a career in real estate, Marc spent 12 years as a Baltimore City Firefighter, member of the Special Operations Command, and Urban Search and Rescue Team.

In addition to leading a top-producing real estate team with total sales over 300 Million dollars, Marc also served as Chief Operating Officer of Search Real Estate Group, a national network of highly specialized and curated real estate agents designed to facilitate the sale and purchase of real estate assets across multiple markets. Additionally, Marc served as the Chief Marketing Officer for Search Media Group, a company that oversees and runs social media and digital marketing for numerous real estate agents, companies, and organizations.

202.900.3126 marc.cashin@corcoranmce.com

What You Can Expect From Us

You stay in control

You will always know where things stand, what your options are, and how each decision affects your bottom line. Nothing moves forward without you.

One team handles the details

Our team coordinates inspections, appraisals, paperwork, and deadlines, so you are not juggling it all.

Clear, regular reporting

Our Seller Performance Dashboard gives you recurring reports on online views, marketing reach, showing feedback, agent interest, and nearby competition.

Honest advice

We will tell you what is worth fixing, what is not, and how to price your home to attract the most qualified buyers.

What People Say

"Marc isn't your average real estate agent. His charisma and leadership skills, matched with a curious mind, make your real estate journey seamless and personalized. He's rock solid on reliability - always timely, always prepared. His unique taste in the arts means he knows how to bring out the unique charm in every property. Marc's combination of commitment, consistency, and vibrant personality will elevate your real estate experience to new heights."

Ryan Serhant, Founder & CEO of SERHANT.

WHAT SETS US APART

We Build Your Buyer Before We Market Your Home

Most listings are marketed to everyone. Ours are marketed to the right someone. Before your home goes live, we build detailed buyer avatars: profiles of the real people most likely to compete for your property. Then we speak directly to them, in the places they already spend their time.

Every buyer avatar is built from

- Your home's features, size, and price
- Neighborhood data: schools, transit, walkability, development plans
- Market trends and buyer behavior for your zip code
- The income and likely professions needed to buy at your price
- Who has actually bought similar homes nearby

NOTHING IS GUESSED

Gaps are filled only when data is verifiable. These avatars are not fictional. They mirror the real categories of buyers most likely to make an offer on your home, so every photo, word, and ad is aimed at them.

1. Match your home to the right buyer

Every home has a natural match. Walkability and Metro access draw government and policy buyers; low-maintenance living appeals to downsizers.

2. Reach them where they are

Targeted online ads, international relocation networks, print mailers, neighborhood newsletters, and agents who represent those buyers.

3. Speak their language

Each avatar gets its own message. When buyers feel a home fits their life, they act faster.

4. Stay in front of them

Video, a listing film, targeted emails, and follow-up ads keep your home top of mind until they book a showing.

The Process, Step by Step

1. Consultation and agreements
   We learn your goals and timing, walk the property, and sign the listing agreement when you are ready.
2. Strategic pricing
   Based on comparable sales, absorption rates, and your desired net proceeds, priced to reach the most qualified buyers. Price also guides how much to invest in preparation.
3. Preparation plan
   Recommended repairs and touch-ups worth making, decluttering guidance, and staging or virtual staging where it adds value.
4. Media and pre-launch review
   Professional photography, video, and floor plans, then a pre-launch review meeting with you.
5. Broker's open
   Before your home goes live, we invite top local agents for an exclusive preview so they can bring their buyers on day one.
6. Launch and showings
   Marketing goes live with a public open house the first weekend. Feedback and dashboard reports follow, and we adjust if needed.
7. Offers and negotiation
   We review every offer together and negotiate price, contingencies, and timeline until it is ratified.
8. Contract to close
   Contingencies, repairs, and financing managed; final walkthrough, closing, and distribution of funds.

A full team behind you: transaction management, client concierge, market intelligence, and in-house photography. $300M+ team sales | 300+ transactions | 97% contract-to-close

Financial Strategy

Our financial team solves buyers' financing issues before they write and shows how your home fits their wealth plan. Confident buyers make stronger offers.

Title and Settlement: SMART Settlements

The buyer chooses the title company. We ask their agent to use SMART Settlements, our preferred partner, proven to exceed our standards in execution and service.

The first step is simply a conversation. Contact Marc to arrange a visit that works for you.

FORWARD | corcoran MCENEARNEY

Marc Cashin | 202.900.3126 | marc.cashin@corcoranmce.com